external evidence of an internal condition. When smallpox epidemics are extensive the general death rate is low. Thus smallpox is of great benefit to humanity. The general superstition that it is a dread disease is wrong. It is also utter folly to believe it contagious and that one attack in most cases makes the patient immune from a second. On the other hand, I have proven that a person who has at one time had smallpox is 63 1-3 per cent. more liable to catch it again than others. To inoculate the body of babes with a filth disease from the cow is a crime.

HOW TO KEEP YOUNG.

Those That Rust Out Lose Youthfulness Sooner Than the Busy and Energetic Workers.

As a rule the women by whose youthfulness I have been struck most have been famous workers, writes Robert Hichens in the Sunday Magazine. Men who work hard and successfully, on the other hand, often appear careworn and elderly before their time. Women are becoming cleverer than men are, in this way, as in so many

In comparing the women who live quiet country lives with those who drain life to the dregs, I must say that my theories and those of many doctors have been upset. Age, in the heart of the country, seems generally to make its appearance just when one would expect it to do so. Country women of 50 usually appear 50. I believe that a perpetual calm is decidedly ageing, and that too much repose even in fine air, induces a heaviness a phlegm, which shows youth quickly to the door. The human vegetable is seldom or never young. It always seems what we discreetly call "a good age." But the surest way of presenting youth is to keep your interest in people and things. Are modern wemen more keenly interested in their lives than modern men in theirs, and is this the secret of their remarkable youthfulness? Certainly the modern woman's life is constantly becoming more varied, more full. She does a thousand things now that she used to leave undone. Both in work and in play she has a far better time. Perhaps that is why she is getting to appear so preposterously young. She is gazing toward the horizon of time, and watching the faroff figures of coming joys, against a sky in which there are not so many clouds as there used to be. Her youth should put man on his mettle

A Former Prenounced Dyspeptic He Now Rejoices in Perfect Freedom from Miseries of Indigestion,

Thousands of sufferers know that the reason why they are irritable and depressed and nervous and sleepless is because their food does not digest, but how to get rid of the difficulty is the puzzling

Good digestion calls for strong digestive organs, and strength comes from a supply of good rich blood. For this eason Mr. Baysson took Dr. Williams Pink Pills for the cure of indigestion.

"They have been my best doctor," he says. "I was suffering from dyspepsia. The pains in my stomach after meals were almost unbearable. My sleep was very irregular and my complexion was sallow. A very simple story, but if it had not been for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills it might have been a tragic one. When disintervals between meals with pain, and prevents sleep at night, there certainly annot be much pleasure in living. A final general breaking down must be merely a question of time.

Mr. Joseph Baysson is a native of Aix-les-Bains, France, but now resides nt No. 2439 Larkin street, San Francisco Cal. He is one of a great number who can testify to the remarkable efficacy of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the treatment of obstinate disorders of the stomach.

RAILWAY RATE LEGISLATION
Biennial Convention of Conductors
Ask Congress Not to Pass Adverse Railroad Laws.

At the biennial convention of the Order of Railway Conductors recently held at Portland, Oregon, resolutions were unanimously adopted voicing their sentiments as to the effect of proposed railway rate legislation on the 1,300,000 railroad employes, whom they in part represented. These resolutions "indorse the attitude of President Roosevelt in condemning secret rebates and other illegalities, and commend the attitude of the heads of American Railways, who, with practical unanimity, have joined with the President on this question." They then respectfully point out to Congress the "inadvisability of legislation vesting in the hands of a commission power over railway rates, now lower by far in the United States than in any other country," because such regulation would "result in litigation and confusion and mission power over railway rates, now lower by far in the United States than in any other country," because such regulation would "result in litigation and confusion and nievitably tend to an enforced reduction in rates, irrespective of the question of the ability of the railroads to stand the reduction, especially in view of the increased cost of their supplies and materials." They especially in view of the increased cost of their supplies and materials." They further protested against such power lith, leave at 2:04 p. m., will, beginning June being given to the present Inter-State to an hour and a half on the present jourof their supplies and materials." They further protested against such power Commission because "the proposed legislation is not in harmony with our idea of American jurisprudence, inasmuch as it contemplates that a single body shall have the right to investigate, indict, try, condemn and then enforce its decisions at the cost of the carriers, pending appeal, which is manifestly inequitable."

The conductors base their demand for only such legislation if any, as would "secure and insure justice and equity and preserve equal rights to all parties concerned" on the ground that the low cost of transportation "is the result of the efficiency of American railway management and operation which have built up the country through constant improvement and development of territory, while at the same time recognition has been given to the value of intelligence among employes in contrast to foreign methods, where high freight rates and lowest to run into a display window filled with nice, shiny fishing tackle.—Sioux City Lorental same time recognition has been given wages to employes obtain."

In pressing their claim against legislation adverse to their interests, they point out the fact that "the freight rates of this country average only two per cent. of the cost of articles to the cansumer, thus making the freight that the constant of the cost of articles to the constant, the constant of the cost of articles to the constant, thus making the freight consumer, thus making the freight constant of the cost of articles to the the rate so insignificant a factor in the selling price that numerous standard articles are sold at the same price in all parts of the country."
